Problem Solvers

A client sought coverage for employees traveling overseas the following day on a government contract.

AIG underwrote, quoted and bound the policy in one day and provided the needed coverage for the workers when they traveled for the contract.

The client was able to satisfy the contract and had peace of mind knowing they were protected from potential lawsuits from injured employees.

Creative Solutions

A client engaging in a new government contract in the Middle East sought coverage that their current carrier would not underwrite.

AIG's broad underwriting appetite allowed us to quote the exposure and issue a policy to cover this and future contracts.

Supported by AIG's multinational expertise, solutions and service, the client obtained the coverage needed to protect workers traveling to the Middle East.

Claims Expertise

A client's employee was severely injured in Nepal and no adequate medical services were available.

AIG Claims, in conjunction with AIG Travel, was able to medivac the injured employee to Dubai for emergency medical intervention and stabilization and subsequently repatriated the employee to their home country for recovery/rehabilitation.

The client was reassured that AIG had the capabilities to handle this remote and complex injury situation.
