- Cyber liability available by endorsement.
- Commercial auto and excess limits available with a primary EAGLE policy.

Why AIG

Challenge

Solution

Benefit

Problem Solvers

A client entered a new country and discovered they needed a locally admitted policy and local certificate of insurance for environmental liability.

With AIG's global network, we were able to place coverage locally, meeting the placement requirements of that country, including the requisite certificate.

The placement allowed the client to keep their business running without interruption and/or fines..

Creative Solutions

A large commercial contractor client pursues and bids on numerous projects as standard practice. In order to be competitive in the time-sensitive bidding process, the client requires accurate and expeditious insurance cost estimating.

AIG created a streamlined project program quoting process so that the necessary pricing and coverage requirements could be provided to the client in time for their bid submissions.

The client was more successful in the project procurement process due to AIG's direct underwriting support to help create risk management efficiencies.

Claims Expertise

A client was incurring significant fees for their use of emergency response contractors, who often charge higher fees for after-hours responses and for clients that don't have a pre-negotiated contract.

The client added AIG's PIER number to their emergency response protocols so every time a contractor was used, it was done through the PIER network of contractors.

The client reduced costs by using PIER's nationwide network of pre-screened emergency response contractors, environmental specialists and crisis management firms with pre-negotiated rates.
